

Animal Image Classification Using Deep Learning

This project focuses on classifying animal images using a CNN model with MobileNetV2.

The system supports 15 animal classes and real-time prediction.

Transfer learning improves accuracy and reduces training time.

The model is deployed using Streamlit as a web application.

The system achieved approximately 91% validation accuracy.

Future work includes adding more classes and cloud deployment.